Glittering Galaxy Of Baseball Heroes Here

Mike Fisher's All-American Stellar Aggregation Pays Visit on Way to the Orient—Triumphal Tour in Prospect for Idols of Yankee Balldom—The Fisher Smile and Fisher Glad Hand Accompany Team—Many Notables Are Numbered Among the Players Making the Vast Journey

Mike Fisher and his scintillating galaxy of diamond stars paid Honolulu a brief visit today en route to the Orient. If there is a single baseball fan who did not show up on the Naval wharf to greet the aggregation of heroes of the flying sphere, it must be someone who failed to connect with the alarm clock this morning, for the opportunity for hobnobbing with notables was such as does not come every day in the year.

Mike's aggregation was in fine fettle and when the descent was made upon the city there was something doing immediately. The Fisher smile was much in evidence and the Fisher glad hand was wrung until it must have been pretty badly

The following is the schedule of games arranged for the club:

Y. C. and A. C. Yokohama, Saturday, Nov. 21; Kelo University, Tokyo, Sunday, Nov. 22; Kelo University, Tokyo, Monday, Nov. 23; Y. C. and A. C. Sail from Japan (Nippon Maru) Dec. 8. Reach

BILL DEVEREAUX

Third Baseman and Captain of the Reach Club All-American Baseball Team, and an Idol of the Pacific Coast Fans, Who Passed Through Here Today on his Way to the Orient lamed up. Mike was last seen purchasing Pond's Extract in a local drug store.

The Reach Club All-Americans have started Eastward with the intention of doing a little missionary work in baseballdom. They are going to demonstrate to the people of the Far East just how the great American game is played at home by the past masters of the art. Incidentally they are headed on one triumphal tour of glory.

It would be hard to imagine a more promising collection of ball players than the aggregation which stepped from the China this morning. In the crowd are men who have set the most blasé of fans howling with insane enthusiasm and have driven the rooters of the Major League wild with joy.

The bunch is composed of the following players:

Bliss, St. Louis Nationals, and Williams, San Francisco, Pacific Coast League, catchers; Burns, Washington Americans, Flaherty, Boston Nationals, and Graney, Cleveland Americans, pitchers; Danzig, Boston Nationals, first base; Delahanty, Washington Americans, second base; McArdle, San Francisco Pacific Coast, shortstop; Devereaux, Oakland Pacific Coast, third base; Hildebrand, San Francisco Pacific Coast, left field; Curtis, San Francisco Pacific Coast, center field; Heltmuller, Philadelphia Americans, right field.

SPOUTS BY THE SPORTING EDITOR

Honolulu will soon achieve new importance—in the eyes of the debutants at least. Heretofore the only claim to fame that the city has been able to boast are: a climate a few degrees more glorious than any other part of the world ever dreamed of, a foliage like unto a second garden of Eden, a world-wide importance in the sugar industry, and a few other matters of equal unimportance.

But now Oahu's capital is about to become a garrison town. Not a little, third-rate, one-company post; but a place which must be taken into serious consideration by the gold-laced Inspector Generals and Adjutant Generals and Commissary Generals and the other Generals that dictate military affairs from the dazzling heights of their office chairs in Washington.

There will probably be a brigadier general in command of the garrison, and a colonel or two and several majors. But the most important of the whole thing will be the fact that there will be a host of lieutenants and youthful captains.

There will be red facings and yellow facings and white facings and orange facings and maroon facings and red facings piped with white, and about every other color that can be imagined. More important still, there will be crossed rifles and crossed sabers and crossed cannon and crossed flags, all of gold; and there will be miniature fortifications of silver. All of these make stunning collar ornaments and look exceedingly well at the throat of a pretty young miss.

And when there are gunners and troopers and a few other varieties of national defenders in garrison here, there is going to be a whole lot of rivalry, which means polo games and gymkhanas and dances and every other brand of entertainment dear to the feminine heart.

Oh, there is no doubt concerning the future importance of Honolulu. The Promotion Committee may as well go out of business. The charming maidens of the United States will see that Honolulu is well advertised from now on without any assistance. With 4000 soldiers—which means a whole lot of eligible young officers—in a city where one can dance the whole year round, either indoors or out, a combination is supplied which cannot be beaten as an attraction to the normal Yankee maid. And where daughter says "go," Dad is sure to journey.

It looks as though those Oahu College and High School football men intended going after the football championship in earnest. They are not wasting any valuable time, and every instant that can be devoted to practice is being taken full advantage of.

There is one matter that might well be taken into consideration the next time the Outrigger Club plans a carnival. That is the question of tides. It is all very well to wait for a full moon, when it can be had in conjunction with a high tide; but when the tide is minus one-tenth, conditions are not the most favorable for surfing. Besides, the moon is liable to be obscured, as it was on Saturday last, and then there is neither moon nor tide.

THIRD TEAMS MEET TODAY

College and High School Yungsters Will Shove Pigskin to Glory on Alexander Field

The third teams of the High School and Oahu College will meet in a grid iron tussle on Alexander Field this afternoon. The game will be called at 3:30 o'clock sharp, and it promises to be a hummer, as the youths are determined to emulate the noble example set by their elders of the first and second teams.

There is busy work going on in football circles, both at College and High School these days. The second teams are to meet again on Friday next, while there will be another game of the big-letter men on the following day.

The men of the High School first team believe that they have it in them to administer a thorough defeat to the Collegians and they are practicing faithfully with that end in view.
